

I would like to comment on allowing LPFM stations to take priority over current FM translator service. I'm opposed to allowing priority to LPFM. Currently, I listen to a radio station, K-Love, at my rural residence. K-Love serves me with quality, commercial-free radio. It's content is positive, uplifting and encourageing. I believe it has a good effect on my, my family and my community. If K-Love is displaced by LPFM, I'm not sure what I would be getting. I think it is better to stick with K-Love, which I'm familiar with and like a great deal. K-Love provides great music and content that are a positive impact on the community and, thus, in the public interest. While other radio stations may provide different styles of music or content, I know that K-Love is a good impact on my community. Thanks very much for reading and considering these comments from the public.
